FOREWORD

The aim of the staff of the '47 Shield has been to prepare a year-book which will be a credit to you and to the school. We have assembled a book containing your memories and a record of the past year. By considering your viewpoint and interests, we have tried to bring together in this book the mood and spirit among the students and teachers at Joliet Junior College. How well we have succeeded may be measured by how vividly it recalls to your mind the events, students, and teachers with whom you have been associated. This book is for you. It contains the things you want to remember---and a few you want to forget. We hope you enjoy reading it as much as we have enjoyed assembling it.

Dedication

“The foundation of every state is the education of its youth”--Diogenes.

We have all seen the truth underlying this statement and have experienced the consequences these past years of dictatorial education.

The hope of the world’s future lies in “America’s educational heritage of Peace.”

To you, the returned veteran, we dedicate this book in hope that you will keep the lamp of true knowledge aflame, and that with “Education for Peace” a motto, you will form the solid foundation for our state of tomorrow.

Remembrance

Greatness is hard to capture with words, and as we write this, we find how true it is in expressing our appreciation of the man who has been our friend, our understanding counselor, and one who has directed our steps on the pathway of knowledge.

Since Joliet Junior College began, you, Dean Yaggy, have been that institution to students and town people alike, and now as you take leave of your labors among us, we wish to express our sincerest thanks for all you have done.

We will not say "goodbye", as you will always be a part of us, but as you depart, it is our hope that you may realize the fruits of your labors in the lives you have helped mold. May we, the students of J. J. C., keep your trust.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Let us present ourselves, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-seven. Our various accomplishments would indeed compose a lengthy treatise, and no other class could boast such complete activity on the part of its members in school affairs. With the return from the war of so many young men our enrollment was more than doubled. Many problems arose with this increase in enrollment, but all of them were taken care of as soon as possible by our very efficient administration, faculty, or student council.

More social events were scheduled when a desire for them was expressed. Our athletic curriculum was enlarged greatly as was our scholastic curriculum.

So, once again another class of young people has been graduated. For the most part, the halls of J.J.C., the classes, the lunch hours, the many bull sessions held by classmates, and the other joys of school will slip into the background and remain fond memories to fill a lifetime. Now that it is over, we realize that these were, indeed, two of the happiest years of our lives.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is composed of officers of both the Freshman and Sophomore classes, a representative of W. A. A., the Shield, the Blazer, and Men's College Y. Its purpose is to bring about closer co-operation between student body and faculty, to direct social activities, to deal with current college affairs, and to recommend the disbursement of the activity fund.

At the first council meeting, the following officers were elected: Chuck Schiek, president; Sara Meers, vice-president; and Gladys Priest, secretary.

The major activities sponsored by this group were the annual fall and spring formals, and the college picnic which is held at the close of the school year. Both the fall and spring dances were highlighted by a contest to select a queen to reign over the balls.

One of its most important projects was the securing of the high school cafeteria as a recreation and study room for collegians except during lunch hours. This greatly relieved the overcrowded "rec" room and library.

The Student Council has aided considerably in supervising school activities, securing greater resources, and assisting with school administration.

THE SHIELD

We, the staff of '47, have tried in this Shield to portray life at J. J. C. in its varied enchanting phases: the studious effort of the classroom; the tense atmosphere of the athletic field and floor; and the carefree moments of social activities. We trust that every part of school life has been fairly treated and that this Shield will be remembered as the sincere record of the year '46-47.

We believe the most eagerly awaited publication since 1942 will compare favorably with its predecessors.

It is only fitting that this edition should be dedicated to the returning veterans who devoted so many months to the service of their country. We were shown that the U. S. would continue to exist even though our organizations, activities, and classes were momentarily interrupted, but it is with pride and anxiety that we resume our prewar schedule.

Miss Christine E. Bunch is the faculty advisor for the Shield.

The increase of college activity, due to the greatly enlarged enrollment, made the task of getting The Blazer's out every two weeks much easier.

During the second semester the paper was put out by the journalism class as a whole. There were no definite staff members other than editor, assistant editor, business manager, and advertising manager.

Ken Mills was the photographer for the first semester, and Bob Smolich took over the position in January.

Miss Lola Bane was The Blazer faculty sponsor both semesters. She also is the college journalism teacher.

Twice during the school year special literary supplements were published with the regular issues of The Blazer, one just before Christmas and another soon after the Easter holidays. These contained the best pieces of creative writing turned in to the rhetoric, journalism, and English literature classes.

Finally the services rendered The Blazer by Mr. Donald Imig and Mr. Herbert Warfel in the print shop were definitely indispensable.

PEP BAND

The school year of 1946-47 marked the beginning of a new activity in Joliet Junior College. For the first time in the school's history, we have had a band of our own.

With the ending of the war increasing our enrollment to nearly 700, we were fortunate to have some thirty musicians among the student body. All of these having had years of training in their high school days, (practically all were members of the Championship High School Band) they had a feeling of genuine pleasure and enjoyment in recreating music for themselves and the public.

Jack Hinton, seeing this array of talent going to waste, decided to organize the talented musicians, and with the splendid cooperation of Mr. Houseknecht, the high school bandmaster, he secured instruments and plenty of music for the first rehearsal. It was discouraging at first having to practice after school till five o'clock, but more and more fellows joined the band until all they lacked was a cymbal player. Jimmie Scheppach, who had never read a note of music in his life and could play only the "shoe horn", willingly agreed to learn the art of "cymbal sockin'" because he liked music so well. After several weeks of intensive practice, everyone agreed that Jim is a great asset to the band. Jim is characteristic of the spirit of the band: everyone plays because he enjoys playing; there is not any glory for the members, not even any curricular credit; consequently, they are named the Pep Band.

During our successful basketball season, the Pep Band was always on hand to support our team and cheer them on to many victories over the opponents. At every assembly, students marched into the auditorium to the tune of one of Sousa's favorite marches. But they didn't play just marches. During the campaign for the Fall Formal Queen, the seven candidates waltzed across the stage in fashion-show manner to the tune of that old favorite, "Tea For Two". At another assembly the band thrilled the students with Victor Herbert's "Stout-Hearted Men". Also for many weeks they practiced Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite" in order to aid the W.A.A. ballet class in their presentation of "Program of Rhythms," given March 28.

THE MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Glee Club, a newly organized club, is composed of twenty-five members under the direction of Paul Lester of the high school music department.

Last semester, the group met each Tuesday and Thursday during the 15-14 periods, while this term they practice on Tuesday after school from 5:45 to 5:00 p.m., and during the 15-14 periods on Thursday.

A very popular organization, the club gave a radio performance during education week, and at the annual Junior College Convention, which was held in our school, and at the Teachers' Convention. They also performed for the Rotary Club and have participated in several school assemblies.

Its officers are: president, Joe Howell; vice-president, Roger Price; secretary, Dick Leser; treasurer, Chuck Repenn; and librarians, Bob Radakovich and Don Nepote.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Paul Lester, is composed of members from both the Men's and Girls' Glee Clubs and has its weekly meetings each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights after school. One hour's credit is given for attendance.

Since this club was such a recent addition to our school organizations, it has had a small social calendar. However, the choir did give a concert in the school auditorium on May 12.

Elected to office were: president, Leo Dehm; secretary, Shirley Lundberg; treasurer, Wilford Rowley; librarians, Bob Radakovich and Howard Marsh; publicity chairman, Gladys Priest.

The Ci-Fi-Y, or the freshman girls Y, held a meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:00. The group was sponsored by Mrs. J. D. Atkins.

An active social year was enjoyed by the club, some of their events being a "Taxi-Dance" and "Horror-Show" party, a bridge lesson meeting, and several splash parties.

Thanksgiving and Christmas Baskets were among the projects undertaken by the Service Committee.

The girls were headed by Jean Magill, with Ann Cirricione as vice-president; Charlene Squier, secretary; Phyllis Ruddy, treasurer; Virginia Bischman, publicity.

This year the Sophomore Girls had a rather large membership of thirty-five girls. Its meetings were held each Wednesday evening at 7:50 at the Y. The results of the election held at the first meeting were: Mary Ellen Schep-pach, president; Lois Benson, vice-president; Kathleen Duston, secretary; Jean Bartels, treasurer. The club sponsored several service projects among which were Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to a needy family in our community, and the instruction in dancing and acrobatics to the girls at the Guardian Angel Orphanage by the members of the Service Committee. To finance these projects the girls raffled off a portable radio during the first semester.

Their social event of the year was an all-college card party given March 19 at the YMCA.

J J C RADIO FORUM

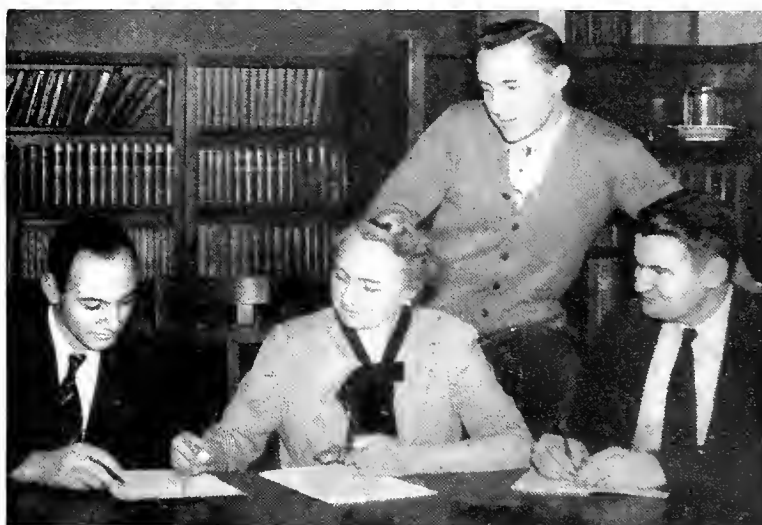

The students and faculty, as their contribution toward adult education, gave a series of broadcasts over radio station WJOL.

The purpose of these programs was to give the students experience in expressing their ideas on important current problems and in so doing to give the public the benefit of unbiased opinions, resulting from their research.

Public response to these forums was very favorable, and it is hoped by all who participated that they may be continued as a public service contribution of Joliet Junior College.

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"Ready for your first exercise — bounces 9-7-5-5-1". These were the strains that came from the small gym every Tuesday and Thursday when the college women were having their gym classes. In their classwork the women worked diligently on their posture, their figures, and their general well-being. They kept a chart of weight and measurements, and prescribed exercises were outlined for them. Since habits of diet, work, recreation, exercise, even mental habits mold the body, emphasis was placed on correcting any bad habits that might exist. Early in the year, the women were given medical exams, and provisions were made for those who were not capable of taking a regular physical education program.

If the college continues to grow as it has, perhaps the college program will someday be as complete as the fine four-year program the women experienced in high school. A step in this direction was made when classes for college women were inaugurated last fall. However, there is a fine opportunity in extra-curricular activities for those who desire more than they find in their regular gym program.

The staff that worked with these classes was the director of the department, Mrs. Phoebe Ann Kirby, Miss Helen Mahaney, Miss Mildred Feres, and the accompanist, Mrs. Alma Makeever.

“Let’s put the Women’s Athletic Association back on the map”. That was the cry of every WAA member in the Joliet Junior College; and under the excellent and capable leadership of the WAA cabinet and Miss Mildred Feres, club sponsor, this ambition was fully realized.

To assist every one of its members in college in learning the use of sports as a recreation for leisure is the aim of the WAA. In so doing, the girls receive vital experience in responsibility and leadership.

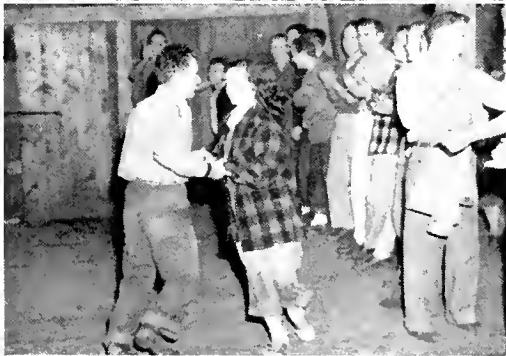

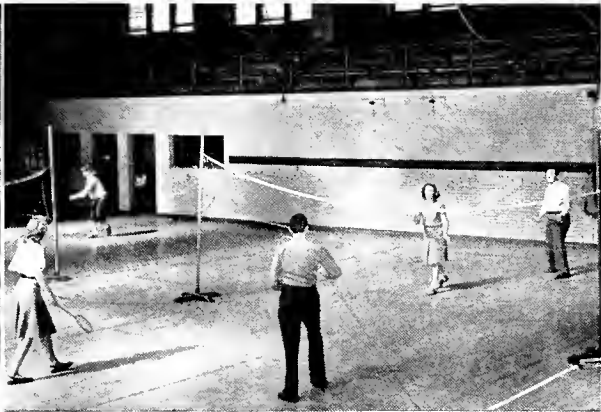

In the past few years, the small enrollment in the college made it impossible for the club to function on a large scale and become prominent. With this year’s large enrollment and the co-operation of every active member a large and successful social program, as well as a year-round sports program, was enacted.

Whether it was fall, winter, or spring, a program, providing ample recreation for members, was made to fit the seasons. WAA members took part in its varied and numerous activities. This sports program included archery, basketball, ballet, horseback riding, bowling, tumbling, tap, golf, orchesis, swimming, tennis, baseball, volley ball, and fencing.

Co-educational bowling was held every Thursday night after school, in which the “gals and fellows” competed with a jovial rivalry. A co-ed sports session was held every Tuesday noon in the girls’ gym.

Thus ended another year, but a notable and important one for WAA; for during this year the club underwent a new and fresh growth. As graduation rolls around, it’s time for old faces to leave and new faces to enter. As those old faces pass out the great doors of learning, may the new inherit our love and interest in WAA and have an inspiration to make a bigger and better club.

Arlene Murphy
W.A.A. Social Chairman

Whiz! Hear that noise? That was just a year that flew by. Say, you wouldn't kid me, would you? I suppose you're right. I just got hooked for my cap and gown fee. Gee, but all those parties and social events were fun.

Say, will you ever forget — — —

September 16 and 18? That was THE day for all little freshies. The WAA held its annual initiation. Can't you just see those dears all dolled up in jeans, date dresses, one three-inch heel, and one flat heel, and carrying their books in wash pails? Laugh, sophomores, we thought we'd split our sides.

And lest we forget—that ever loving co-ed sports day. Approximately one hundred fellows and girls entered ye ole gym every Tuesday noon for a good jam session amid badminton, ping pong, shuffle board, basketball, and of course good old community singing. Oh, yea, a few birthday parties thrown in made that recipe perfect for a leisure hour for the gang.

Stafford Stables! What a rugged evening! Didn't we all just about drop dead "executing" all that square dancing? That was on Friday, November 1, when the WAA gave that hayrack ride. Then there was time out for refreshments — cider and doughnuts. 'Twas an unforgettable evening.

Remember the night we dragged our fathers down to the gym? That was Wednesday, November 20, from 7:50 to 10:50. We turned hostesses for all the "Pops". Such competition, but a!! in the family. Refreshments were served, and Dads' Sport Night was brought to a conclusion by community singing.

Oh yes, we did appreciate the finer things, too. On December 12, after school, the Women's Athletic Association held its Mother-Daughter Tea. A program was presented for the group. Refreshments were served from a lovely table, banked in candelabra and fresh pine. Mrs. Kenneth McOwan, mother of the WAA president, and Mrs. Charles Hoffer, former GAA sponsor, presided at the silver coffee urns. Need I say more?

Never let it be said a little snow stopped the WAA. The mules may have had a rough time pulling that gang, but that gang sure enjoyed it. Woodruff Stables was the scene of a Snow Party given in January. Everyone warmed up in the gym afterwards, where the group danced and was served refreshments. (Always eating)

And then, and then — to each and every one — that super colossal, slightly terrific, well, you know what I mean. Anyway, March 1, the combined gyms were converted into a park. None other than the "Lamplighter", the annual WAA dance, given March 1. Nearly two hundred and fifty couples waltzed through the "park" to the strains of the music of Roy Gordon's orchestra. That silhouette of an old lamplighter lighting a lamp was out of this world. Arlene Murphy was general chairman. Gee, (sigh) Murph, it was wonderful!

Skating? Why sure, we're versatile. In the latter part of March, the WAA sponsored a skating party at Electric Park Roller Rink in Plainfield, Ill. That gluteus maximus didn't enjoy it too much. Oh, well, we'll try anything once.

And that WAA banquet in May at the Hotel Louis Joliet. Again we ate, but this time in style. A bouquet of orchids was thrown to the WAA cabinet and Miss Mildred Feres for a wonderful job done well.

Hey, that's all there is, there ain't no mo'. And just like that, I guess we'll never forget the big times we had. If we could only relive those moments.

COACH RICKHOFF

BASKETBALL

Coach James A. Rickhoff, better known to his friends as "Rick", came to Joliet three years ago and since then has guided the Joliet Junior College team thru two successful seasons of basketball.

Last year he commanded the squad when they suffered only one defeat and brought to Joliet the conference championship. This year with a greatly expanded conference schedule he led his team to second place.

Before coming to Joliet "Rick" was director of athletics at Harvey and coached basketball, baseball, and track.

CONFERENCE GAMES

Conference play.....	Won — 13	Lost — 5
Season's record.....	Won — 20	Lost — 5

Even though the Wolves this season did not finish on the very top of the Illinois Junior College Basketball Conference, the quintet was regarded by many basketball fans as the outstanding team in the conference. It was Joliet that issued the only defeat of the season to Morton, the conference leaders, by a score of 100 to 62.

With tripled enrollment to select from this year, Coach James A. Rickhoff had ample material from which he culled his victorious first string five. Four lettermen returned this year; however, only two of them were from last year's squad. Forwards Lou Bertani and Ed Skoien came back after helping the team through a successful season last year, while Don Peterson and Bob Long returned to the hardwood after three years in the military service. Joe Pohlman, Tony Gutierrez, Don Drake, and Paul Kristofer received their preliminary hardwood training with the Joliet Township High School.

When the last game of the season was completed, the Wolves were in second place with 15 wins against 4 loss, while LaGrange Junior College trailed the Wolves in third place with 12 wins and 6 losses.

There were two brilliant games of the season, one with Morton and the other with LaGrange. In the next to the last contest of the season Joliet was to meet LaGrange in what turned out to be a contest for second place. The LaGrange team had 12 wins and 5 losses when Joliet visited the school, and the Wolves had 11 wins and 5 losses. The winning team would be recognized as the holder of second place since the Wolves had only one game remaining to play with the cellar team, Morgan Park. The LaGrange squad paced the Joliet men thru the first three quarters; however, in the final period the pressure of the strong Purple and White cagemen forged Joliet out in front to win the game, 60 to 44.

Another spectacular game that demonstrated the power of the Joliet quintet came midway in the second half of the season when the Wolves dealt a crushing defeat to the hitherto undefeated league leader, Morton. A deluge of baskets that totaled 100 points for the Joliet men wrecked the conference and raised the already high rating of the Joliet team in the opinion of opposing coaches.

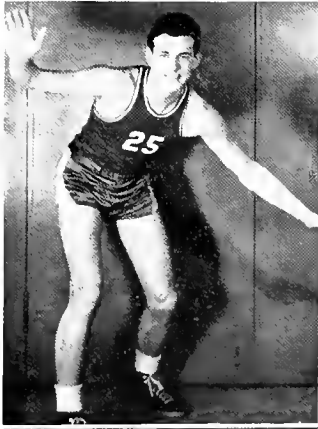

Although Joliet lost five games in the conference, there was no team that the Wolves did not beat once. In three of the games in which the Wolves bowed to their opponents, the Joliet team was within two baskets and a free throw from the score of the victorious team. The Purple and White trailed by an average of eight points in the five games that they lost.

Fortunately for the Wolves this year they lost only one man in the mid-semester graduation. Bob Long, a valuable center, graduated in January while at the same time Don Drake entered school and capably filled this vacancy. On the first string at the opening of the season were Joe Pohlman and Don Peterson, forwards; Bob Long, center; Tony Gutierrez and Paul Kristofer, guards.

The students and faculty of the Joliet Junior College salute coach Jimmy Rickhoff and his fine basketball squad for completing a victorious season for the college.

Action -- and How!

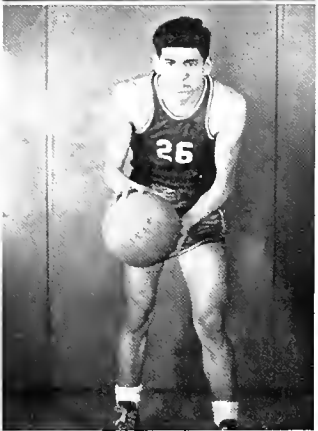

Joe Pohlman, forward. Elected by his teammates as their captain, Joe from his forward position led the squad in scoring with a 14 point average per game. In the second Herzog game, Joe scored 25 points which won the record high for the season.

Don Peterson, forward. A regular on A. A. Wills' '12, '15 Junior College squad. He made the all state Junior College team. Don came back after three years of Army service to play even greater ball. His 12 point per game average was second high on the team.

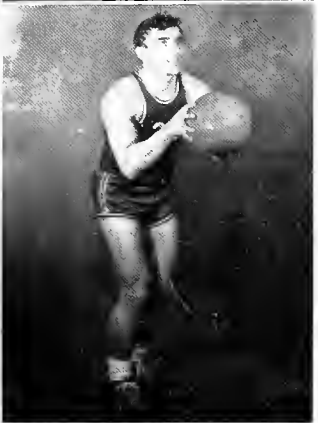

Tony Gutierrez, guard. Picked for the 1916 High School All-Conference team. Tony showed why he won this honor by playing equally good ball in college. His one-handed push shot from the free throw circle gave him an eleven point per game average.

Paul Kristoler, guard. The team's most aggressive player, Paul was consistently breaking up the opponent's plays or stealing the ball and dribbling the length of the floor for an easy shot. Besides playing a fine defensive game Paul accounted for 9 points per game.

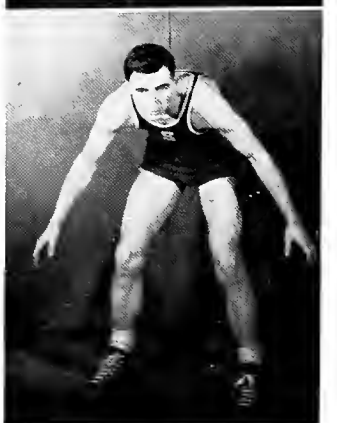

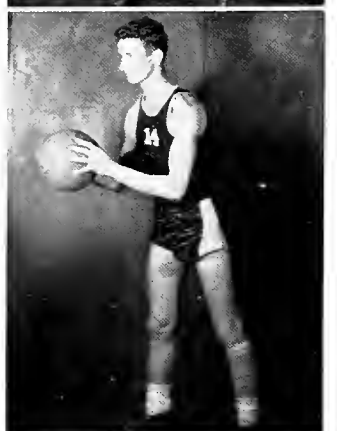

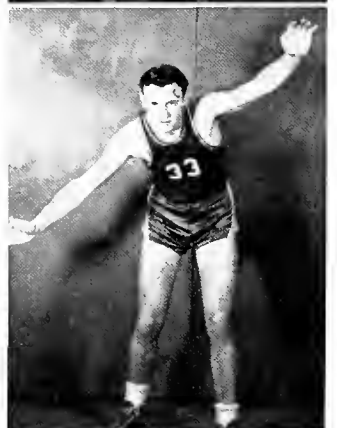

Don Drake, center. Don's timely entrance at mid-semester worked in perfectly with the graduation of Bob Long. Don's previous experience fitted him well to take over the center position. He averaged 9 points per game.

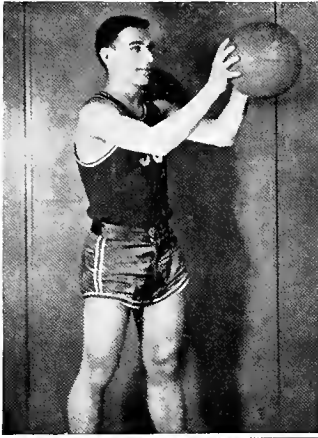

Ken Geuther, center. Six feet three inches tall, Ken was a natural in the center position on the squad. He saw action in many conference games as a reserve center.

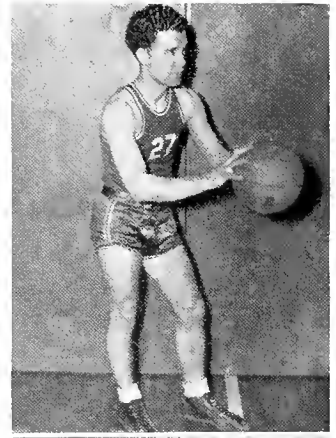

Gene Stevens, forward. Gene came to the squad at mid-season, and therefore did not see very much action, but he will be counted on heavily for next year's squad.

Don Muhlig, forward. Another mid-season player, Don did not see much play this season but will be back next year.

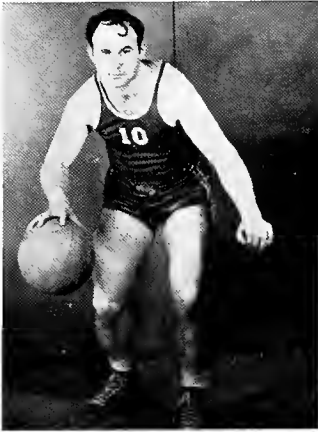

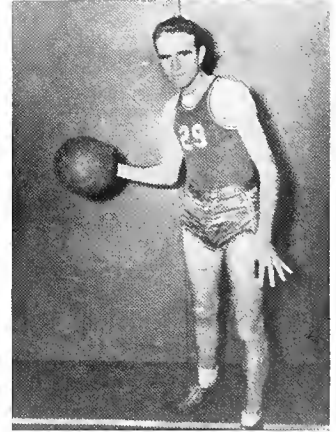

Gene Sari, Guard. A substitute guard. Gene was the smallest player on the team; however, he made up for his size by playing both an aggressive offensive and defensive game.

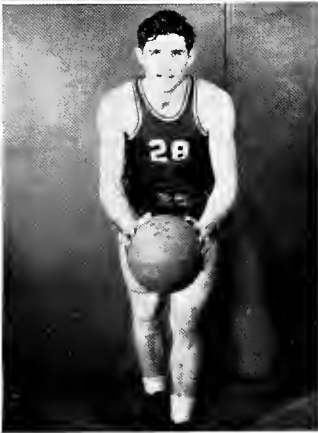

Ken Strappazon, forward. With Ken's accurate eye for the basket he made a reserve forward that could be relied on against any team.

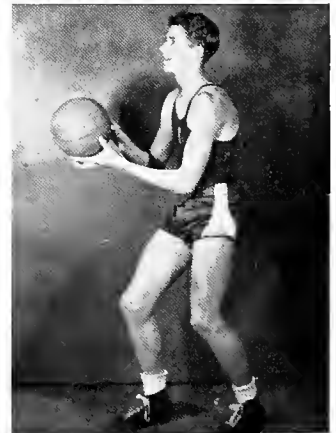

Elmer Hinds, guard. Elmer teamed up with Gene Sari, and together they made a capable pair of substitute guards.

Lou Bertani, center. One of the two returning lettermen from last year's squad, Lou played reserve center and could always be relied on for a basket when it was needed.

John Skoien, forward. John was also a letterman from last year's squad and a reserve on this year's team.

Bob Long, Center. A member of the '42, '45 team, Bob came back from service to slip into the center position as a regular. The squad's tallest player, his rebounding was greatly missed after his mid-semester graduation.

Jack Pearson, Jack did not play much, but what experience he did obtain will be a benefit for next season's team.

Ed Brown, team manager. Before the season was over, Ed was just as valuable to the squad as any player. This was his second year as student manager, and the team benefited from his experience.

GOLF

The job of organizing a golf team after a four year lapse, scheduling the matches, and arranging the state tournament, was done by Mr. Kienlen. The sponsor of the high school and college intra-mural sport programs, very popular with the students,

Eight dual matches were arranged and the team was victorious in seven of these, losing only to LaGrange by one point on the winner's course.

COACH KIENLEN

The season was climaxed by the winning of the state tournament played on the championship Calumet Country Club course. Calumet, which was the scene of the 1945 Chicago Victory National Golf Championships, is considered by the country's leading golfers as one of the toughest courses in the middle west. The team showed their fighting spirit for J. J. C. in this match.

TOURNAMENT SCORES

Joliet J. C.	815	Morton J. C.	918
Thornton J. C.	914	La Grange J. C.	921
Wright J. C.	931

Paul Hudak—Captain and number one man of the team. Paul won first place in the individual scoring of the state tournament. Paul was the 1945 Will County junior champion. In the dual meets he won 5, lost 2, and tied 1 match, and his best round was a 72 at Inwood.

Cliff Mullbarger—Cliff held down the number two position and was the only returning letter man having captained the 1942 J. C. team. He was undefeated in the dual meets, winning 6 matches and tying 2. His best score was a 74 over the York G. C. course.

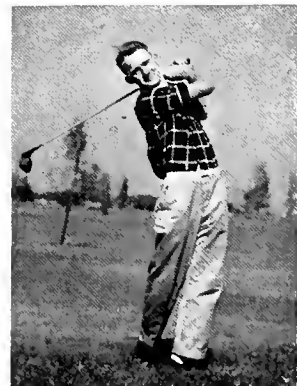

1946 TROPHY

Presented to the team for winning the 1946 Illinois Junior College State Championship.

Dale McAllister—Because he was just out of the Navy when school started, Dale was not up to his pre-service form which won for him the 1944 Will County junior championship. He was the number three man and won 4 matches and lost 5. A 74 at Inwood was his best round during the matches.

Harry Schoch—Harry alternated between the fourth and fifth positions and was defeated in only one match while winning 5 and tying one. Harry came to the team from last year's varsity squad. His best score was a 75 at Inwood.

Don McMillan—Studies kept "Scotty" from playing in only three matches and the state tournament. In his matches he was the number four man and was undefeated. He was junior medalist in the 1941 Will County tournament.

Don Peterson—Don was the number five man in six matches and the alternate in two meets. In his six matches he was undefeated. A 78 at Inwood was his best score.

Bill Kane—Bill was the team's alternate in case one of the other players was unable to play. He did play in the last match of the season against Wright and won from his opponent. He proved a great asset to the team as he was always on hand to play in case one of the other fellows could not show up.

INTRA-MURAL FOOTBALL

In the early part of the fall, as school got into full swing, there was a junior college intra-mural touch football league organized. This was done to create some interest for the men of J.J.C.

Enough of the college men got that old gridiron spirit, and four teams were entered in the league. Coach Don Kienlen made up the schedule for the teams, so they could play in the Junior-Senior division of the high school, which lasted about six weeks. The four college teams entered were: Snafus, Bears, Wolves, and Shamrocks. These teams battled each other all during the season along with some high school teams. One of the best games was when the Bears and the Snafus played a 6 to 6 tie.

As the intra-mural touch football league of twelve teams brought their season to a close, the four college teams ended very close to each other. The Snafus took over fifth place honors and first place among the college teams by winning six games and losing five.

Right behind the Snafus to capture sixth place in the standings and the second best college team were the Wolves, who won five games and lost five. Running a close third in the college race and seventh in the standings was the Bears with a record of five wins and six losses. Taking eighth place honors were the Shamrocks who had won two and lost nine.

The men who played in the touch football league are as follows: The Snafus consisted of Don Peterson, Don Nepote, Bill Morse, Bob Long, Joe Pohlman, Jim Tibble, Norm Goodwin, Dick Birkey, and Don MacMillan. The Wolves had Bill Thomas, Lee Olin, John Coldwater, Ron Lafhig, Jay Criche, Allan Schultz, Dale McAllister, and Jim McNichols. The Bears' players were Ray Dixon, Bruce Ford, Bill Taylor, Jack Touhey, Durward Killinger, Jack Lohmar, Earl Foreman, Paul Kristopher, and Jim Collins. The Shamrocks were Chuck Repenn, Ed Manthey, Bob Waesco, Gerald Fahrner, Jack Pearson, Jay Nolan, and John Daniel.

THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN

The efforts of many weeks of preparation were proved on the night of November 15, when the "46" college play, "The Late Christopher Bean", was staged in the high school auditorium. The play, a three-act comedy, was under the capable direction of Miss Catherine Wood and was acclaimed a success by a capacity audience.

The play, a Broadway hit, is the story of a dead artist, Christopher Bean, who before his death lived at the Hagggett residence. No one, with the exception of Abby, the housekeeper, recognized Christopher's talent while the artist was living. When it became apparent, after his death, that he had been a great artist, there was a mad scramble for the possession of his work, providing a number of humorous incidents in the play.
